

About

A little background...

'Phoenix Rising' a rock band hailing from the West Midlands UK. The four band members bring together a broad range of musical influences which has helped form

'Phoenix Rising' distinctive style. Smart songs with great melodies are the essence of the band's sound.

Formed in 2015 the band finalised their line-up. Before starting work on a promotional EP Remedy and then their debut EP Bad Company.

The band started writing the EP over the summer of 2015, which was subsequently recorded at Blotto Recording Studios, with Simon Reeves in control of the sound desk.these guy's are not the run of the mill rock band. It's been said they are a breath of fresh air on the rock scene, and their music is delivered with both power, and passion, at every show they leave you wanting more, once seen never forgotten.

Renowned for delivering a highly entertaining show, 'Phoenix Rising' are very much a "Live" band and have played festivals and live music venues around the Midlands.

The band have gone through a change of line up at start of 2017 with Garry and Roger from the original line up a new direction with the same dedication as Joe and Carl becoming a solid part of the bands future.
